Courses Developed & Taught

ID 210	Visual Literacy in Interior Design
ID 232	Interior Materials and Installation Methods
ID 240	Interior Design II
ID 242	Portfolio Development
ID 303	Interior Systems
ID 311	Advanced Visual Literacy in Interior Design
ID 320	Presentation Media
ID 339	Interior Design III
ID 342	Residential Interior Design II
ID 438	Portfolio Presentation
ID 441	Professional Practice & Procedures
ID 442	Interior Design Internship
ID 478	Seminar in Interior Design
ID 490	Advanced Application of Design Theory (Capstone Course)
ID 492	Special Problems (Inter-Disciplinary Studies)
ID 492H	Special Problems (Senior Honor Project)

Course Descriptions

ID 210: Visual Literacy in Interior Design, utilizes computer aided drafting software for the preparation and plotting of interior construction documents, and the development of presentation drawings for the incorporation of a variety of computer enhanced mediums

ID 232: Interior Materials and Installation Methods, explores the various architectural materials for interior application with an emphasis on selection, cost, installation methods, codes, and standards requirements

ID 240: Interior Design II, provides a series of interior design projects that expand student knowledge of design development, human factors, theoretical applications, communication skills, and presentation techniques

ID 242: Portfolio Development, introduces various portfolio techniques, documentation methods, and career planning for the interior design profession

ID 303: Interior Systems, examines the design aspects of interior systems that affect human sensory response, behavior, productivity, and well-being with an emphasis on lighting design, acoustics, plumbing, mechanical systems, construction procedures, and sustainability

ID 311: Advanced Visual Literacy in Interior Design, utilizes a variety of software programs, including building information modeling (BIM), rendering, and photo editing, for the exploration of advanced graphic communication and modeling methods in interior design through a variety of projects

ID 320: Design Presentation Media, cultivates a range of presentation and graphic techniques, and the experimentation of a variety of design media for the execution of perspective drawing, estimated sketching, rendering, modeling, orthographic projection, and construction documentation

ID 339: Interior Design III, provides the analysis and application of architectural detailing, building systems, standards, and codes necessary for programming, problem solving and the space planning of interior spaces

ID 342: Residential Interior Design II, application of advanced problems in space planning, human factors, historical furnishings/interiors, and ornamentation for residential interiors

ID 438: Portfolio Presentation, analyzes the principles, trends, and practices relevant to portfolio design and presentation for entry level and internship positions in the interior design profession

ID 441: Professional Practice & Procedure, explores the various aspects of the interior design profession, including ethics, planning, business formations, legal issues, career options, administration, and marketing

ID 442: Interior Design Internship, prepares students with a professional practicum experience in interior design under the supervision of a professional interior designer

ID 478: Seminar in Interior Design, investigates a variety of topics, including presentation methods for portfolio development, and computer aided design and drafting techniques

ID 490: Advanced Application of Design Theory, application of a directed in-depth research and investigation of a current interior design issue or a design project within the community

ID 492: Special Problems, application of a directed individual study

ID 492H: Special Problems, application of a directed individual study for students undertaking a Senior Honors College Project

Courses Developed & Taught at Appalachian State University

INT 2303 CAD for Interiors

INT 4321 Commercial Interior Design II

Course Descriptions

INT 2303: CAD for Interiors, prepares students to utilize Autodesk® AutoCAD® as a graphic medium for drawing and plotting construction documents, and expanding student knowledge of the philosophy, organization and methodology of construction documentation

INT 4321: Commercial Interior Design II, focuses on the development of individualized comprehensive projects through programming and schematic planning, specification of materials and furnishings, construction documentation, and alternative methods of graphic representation for presentation materials

Courses Assisted in Teaching at the University of Alabama

CTD 102 Introduction to Applied Design

CTD 121 Introduction to Interior Design

CTD 225 Interior Design I

CTD 371 Lighting and Wiring

Course Descriptions

CTD 102: Introduction to Applied Design, laboratories which examine the principles and elements of design

CTD 121: Introduction to Interior Design, an introductory course to the multifaceted concepts in interior design

CTD 225: Interior Design I, a sophomore level studio course for residential application in interior design

CTD 371: Lighting and Wiring, in which students study and apply through a variety of projects, the concepts of lighting, color, and electrical components as related to the interior environment

Curriculum Development

Created and implemented three (3) new courses for the University of Southern Mississippi Interior Design Program and for the fulfillment of new technology requirements as required by the Council for Interior Design Accreditation (CIDA):

- ID 242 Portfolio Development: An introduction to various portfolio techniques, documentation methods, and career planning for the interior design profession (Approved Spring 2007)
- ID 310 Visual Literacy in Interior Design: An exploration of various interior graphic communication methods through a variety of design projects (Approved Spring 2007)
- ID 311 Advanced Visual Literacy in Interior Design: An exploration of advanced graphic communication and modeling methods in interior design through a variety of projects (Approved Spring 2008)

Teaching Innovations & Accomplishments

Student Think Center / Design Thinking

Utilized the Student Think Center [a flexible and collaborative learning environment provided by the Southern Miss Learning Enhancement Center (LEC) through grant funding from the U.S. Department of Education Strengthening Institutions Program] and collaborated with LEC Instructional Designers to enhance course instructional goals for the Capstone course. Students used design thinking to create a higher education facility that, in turn, integrated design thinking concepts into the design of the space to enhance learning and thinking.

Quality Enhancement Program

Participated in the Quality Enhancement Program (QEP) "Finding a Voice: Improving Oral and Written Competencies" for the further development and evaluation of student writing and speaking components in the Interior Design Program Capstone course. Implemented speaking and writing components developed during the program into two (2) courses, including the Capstone course, Advanced Application of Design Theory (ID 490), and Advanced Visual Literacy in Interior Design (ID 311). After the implementation of the new components, overall student project scores and student anxiety toward completion of both writing and speaking components improved.

NCIDQ Certification

Successfully completed and passed the National Council for Interior Design Qualification (NCIDQ) exam as required by the Council for Interior Design Accreditation (CIDA) for the majority of the interior design faculty teaching studio courses in an accredited program. Served as the NCIDQ Champion for the University of Southern Mississippi Interior Design Program and NCIDQ Ambassador.

NKBA Certifications

Successfully completed and passed the Associate Kitchen & Bath Designer (AKBD) exam, the Certified Bath Designer/Educator (CBD/CBE) exam, and the Certified Kitchen Designer/Educator (CKD/CKE) exam as recommended for the National Kitchen and Bath Association (NKBA) Accreditation requirements and for the improvement of NKBA course content in the curriculum. Additionally, served as a 2012 & 2013 NKBA Accreditation Evaluation Verification Team Member and Site Visitor.

Interior Design Program Comprehensive Exam

Developed a comprehensive exam to assess student retention of knowledge throughout the interior design curriculum. Questions were gathered from interior design faculty members and input into an extensive Blackboard database according to six (6) areas of examination outlined by the program coordinator. The six (6) areas were developed to assess general knowledge of graduating students in the Interior Design Program for utilization in University assessments.

CAPS Certification

Successfully completed and passed the Certified Aging in Place Specialist (CAPS) for the enhancement of knowledge for coursework and projects related to aging in place, universal design, and residential design.

Course Manuals

Developed extensive course manuals for bound and/or paperless dissemination of course materials using Blackboard, Websites, and Dropbox.

Blackboard

Extensive use of Blackboard as a course supplement, file management system, and assessment tool. Blackboard courses include video supplements, assignments, assessments, course materials, links to additional help tools, and means for engaging students with alternative learning styles.

i>Clicker

Utilized i>Clicker, classroom automated response system, to engage students in classroom discussions of material in lecture courses.

Course Video Tutorials

Developed course instructional video tutorials using Camtasia Studio® for a variety of software and course lessons, and a means for engaging students with alternative learning styles.

Building Information Modeling

Implemented new course to teach Building Information Modeling (BIM) software, and incorporated two (2) industry standard BIM software programs utilized in architecture, interior design, and the kitchen and bath industry into several existing courses.

Professional Productivity Applications

Incorporated new applications into the Interior Design Program Capstone course, Advanced Application of Design Theory (ID 490), including Google Calendar, GoogleDocs, Evernote, Dropbox, Learn, Skitch, Wordpress, and AutoCAD WS. Required students to use meeting makers to schedule presentations and professor conference appointments. Required Capstone students to use Wordpress and other blog sites to document and collaborate on extensive research components for the Writing Intensive (WI) portion of the course. Incorporated the use of Mint.com, GoogleDocs, Dropbox, and Evernote for student organizations IDSA, ASID, and NKBA, and for the IIDA Student Chapter Formation Committee.

Student Project Awards

1st Place Computer Rendering, Katrina Rutledge, American Society of Interior Designers (ASID) South Central Design Conference 2010, Regional Competition, New Orleans, Louisiana, September 2010

1st Place Residential Design, Tiffany Tanner, American Society of Interior Designers (ASID) South Central Design Conference 2009, Regional Competition, October 2009

Honorable Mention Residential Design, Elizabeth Jones, American Society of Interior Designers (ASID) South Central Design Conference 2009, Regional Competition, October 2009

1st Place Perspective Rendering (Computer Generated), Kristin Smith, American Society of Interior Designers (ASID) Student Career Day 2009, Regional Competition

2nd Place Perspective Rendering (Computer Generated), Tiffany Tanner, American Society of Interior Designers (ASID) Student Career Day 2009, Regional Competition

Honorable Mention Perspective Rendering (Computer Generated), Ashley Sumrall, American Society of Interior Designers (ASID) Student Career Day 2009, Regional Competition

Letter of Recognition, Mandi Jeukens, National Kitchen and Bath Association (NKBA) 2008/2009 Student Competition, National Competition

Academic and Professional Resources for Undergraduate Interior Design Students, Educational Specialist's Thesis Project developed to create a web-based instructional research tool, based on the theory of universal design for learning, to serve as an academic, technical, and theoretical informational resource for undergraduate students studying interior design.

Consumer Interest in Universal Design for Residential Application, Master Thesis study developed to ascertain consumers' levels of interest for integrating selected universal design features into their homes using the independent variables included (a) gender, (b) age, (c) marital status, (d) educational background, (e) number of children, (f) children's ages, (g) number of children living at home, (h) price range of home, and (i) exposure to someone living in their home requiring special features or having a disability. A questionnaire was developed and administered to 188 persons visiting home expo 2000 in Atlanta, Georgia. Subjects were asked to provide demographic data and a 5-point Likert-type scale was used to measure consumer interest in 26 selected universal design features.

Scholarly Presentations

Teaching Software or Teaching with Software: Exploring the Relevance of Interior Design Courses Focusing on the Teaching of Industry Standard Computer Aided Drafting and Design Software Programs, Submitter and Moderator of a National Peer Reviewed Panel Discussion at the 2013 Interior Design Educators Council (IDEC) Annual Conference, Indianapolis, Indiana, February 2013.

Software for Student Understanding of Interior Systems, National Peer Reviewed Presentation at the National Kitchen and Bath Association (NKBA) Educator's Forum and Annual Conference, Chicago, Illinois, April 2012.

The Utilization of Building Information Modeling (BIM) Software for Student Understanding of Building Systems, National Peer Reviewed Presentation for the Scholarship of Teaching & Learning at the 2012 Interior Design Educators Council (IDEC) Annual Conference, Baltimore, Maryland, March 2012.

Digital Design Process, National Peer Reviewed Presentation at the National Kitchen and Bath Association (NKBA) Educator's Forum and Annual Conference, Las Vegas, Nevada, April 2011.

Creative Activities

The Grove Residence, Design services for the development of a contemporary custom home in a classic Bungalow style showcasing old-fashioned detailed millwork and modern conveniences, utilizing roof space for second level living spaces and walk-in storage, minimizing the building footprint, and providing flexible sleeping spaces for up to ten guests, while encompassing low maintenance, sustainable, and universal design features, Hattiesburg, Mississippi, 2014 to Present.

Bellegrass Residence, Design services for the development of custom home in a premiere subdivision developed to emulate the American Cottage style homes inherent to the historic Hattiesburg area, using minimum massing, and a front porch living space close to the tree-lined streets, Hattiesburg, Mississippi, 2013.

The Barn Project, Design consultation for a grant-funded renovation project of a former dairy barn into a new Visual Arts Center for the Mississippi Gulf Coast Community College (MGCCC) Perkinston Campus, Perkinston, Mississippi, Fall 2012.

National Kitchen & Bath Association Accreditation Preparation Course Drawings, Project to reproduce the National Kitchen and Bath Association (NKBA) example drawings using newly approved Building Information Modeling (BIM) software for the Certified Kitchen Designer and Certified Bath Designer Preparation Courses offered throughout the nation, January 2012.

Driggers Residence, Design project for a universal design & ADA compliant residence in Maryville, Tennessee, to house a special needs individual and family that provides comfort, convenience, and safety, as well as to support an independent lifestyle. Scope of project consists of a complete set of presentation materials, furnishings and finish selections, and construction documents.

Main Street Methodist Church Project, Coordinator / Procurement of $1,500.00, Southern Miss American Society of Interior Designers (ASID) Student Chapter rehabilitation and design of Main Street Methodist Church Youth Activity Areas.

Information Commons Project, Coordinator, Research and design project for the University of Southern Mississippi Library Resource Area, located on the first floor of the Cook Library. Students developed and administered a questionnaire to faculty, staff, and students at the University of Southern Mississippi, as well as other college campuses. Results of the survey were analyzed and utilized in the student programming documents developed for the project. Students developed real design solutions for the space based on the programming content and the research concept of "the new information commons", including the collaborative effort of showcasing artwork from the Department of Art & Design. A winning project was selected by the Dean of Libraries, Head Resource Librarian, and the library staff for future implementation, and submitted to University President, Dr. Saunders, for further funding consideration. Total estimated project at >$350,000.00, currently being implemented.

The University of Southern Mississippi's Math Zone, Design Services for the selection of mathematically related art work.

Sustainable & Universal Design Bungalow, Design Services, Hattiesburg, Mississippi, residential design that meets the leadership in energy and environmental design (LEED-HOME) standards for sustainable homes, and the center for universal design standards for universally accessible buildings.

Domas House, Design Consultant, Kitchen renovation of a circa 1902 American Four Square Craftsman home in Memphis, Tennessee.
